

Forecast For Northeast England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Friday 17 Dec 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:

Cold overnight, with frost and fog. Staying rather dull Saturday.

This Evening and Tonight:

A cold, misty night with light and variable winds and an increasing chance of fog forming. This could be dense in places. Frosty, especially in sheltered valleys, with a chance of freezing fog. Remaining clearer over hills. Minimum temperature -4 deg C (25 deg F).

Saturday:

Cold start with some frost. Generally dull and misty with any fog slow to thin and break. Some sunny spells, especially over higher ground. Staying cold in sheltered valleys. Maximum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:

Likely cloudier Sunday with early fog gradually lifting. Staying cold for some. Turning brighter with sunny spells likely Monday and Tuesday. Widespread frost overnight into Tuesday. Chance of coastal showers.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.